Tygart Valley Homesteaders Are On Strike

Resettlement Project Of The Government In West Virginia Tied Up

QUIT WORKING ON OWN HOMES

Complicated Situation Develops As Work Is Halted On U. S. Project

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, July 29.—Tygart Valley, one of the administration's ambitious resettlement projects in West Virginia, was tied up today by a strike of the homesteaders.

About 150 of the workers have quit working on their own homes, the community's sewage system and preparations for building a community center because of the dismissal of some supervisors and the non-dismissal of others.

Halts Payrolls.

Cessation of work halted the payrolls, which the government was providing so the workers could pay the government rent on the homes they are building. The materials and land are supplied by the government.

This complication leaves some of the workers living in unfinished homes, without pay, and facing rent day the first of the month.

The strikers also objected to the possibility of the government letting a contractor build the community house—they want the job themselves—and on that point they may win. But on the question of personnel, they will not win, according to Milo Perkins, acting RA administrator.

"We simply cannot let the homesteaders decide which the government is going to have administer a project on which the government is spending about $1,500,000, appropriated by congress for a specific purpose," Perkins said.

PA NEW OBSERVES

If you like to ride over a washboard road, try the one leading from East Brook to Harlansburg. The west end of it is where you get most of the thrills. There is considerable difference of opinion among motorists as to the best way to hurdle a washboard road. Some say to take it slow, and others maintain you should take it at high speed. Who's right?

Weather conditions like they were yesterday and last night would be ideal for campers. The sun was hot yesterday, but the evening turned cool and the night was cooler, so that one would have to pile on the blankets if he were out in the open.

Pa New notes another spurt in the painting business around the city, several of the large downtown business blocks being given a paint job. The painting business has been exceptionally good this spring and summer.

Pa New is informed that another highway accident occurred on the New Castle-Youngstown road last night, near the huge safety sign. This time it was a truck that missed the curve and left the road.

Many tourists from all sections of the country pass through New Castle daily. Auto license plates from California, North Dakota, Kansas and Michigan among many others were seen yesterday. New Castle is on a through route to the east for a great deal of western travel.

Since Rural Avenue has proven so popular there is considerable sentiment for a good road from the paper mill to the Croton district. The narrows are in good shape, but few travel the road to Croton on (Continued On Page Two)

Select Site Near Butler For State Sanatorium

Western Pennsylvania's new tuberculosis sanatorium will be located, two miles northwest of Butler on the New Castle highway, on the farm formerly owned by Charles J. Robinson, it was announced Wednesday by state authorities. The land was purchased by the city of Butler for $30,000.

The selection of the site ends a scramble of several months by counties west of Blair for the sanatorium. Seventy-five offers were made of land for the new building, among them sites in Lawrence and Mercer counties. Lawrence county was prepared to furnish approximately 100 acres on the Harlansburg road, a site which was said to be admirable for the purpose.

The new building will cost $2,460,000 and will be built out of the $65,000,000 institutional building program. Work is expected to start within a reasonably short time.

Adopt Liberal Policy On 44-Hour Week Law

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, July 29.—A broad liberalized policy was adopted tentatively today by the State Industrial board in the administration of the 44-hour week law, which becomes effective December 1.

Although the board issued no final statement of policy, it was generally understood that the law will be broadened to exclude as many wage-earners as possible.

Expected to be exempted were employees who are under labor contracts with employers and a liberalized definition of what constitutes a "bona fide" executive making $25 a week or more was assured.

The board specifically took under consideration the women's 44-hour week bill which becomes effective September 1, but, according to Secretary of Labor and Industry Ralph McEashore, the policies also will be the same in administering the general law.

The Industrial board is empowered to grant exemptions wherever and whenever it sees fit. Already exempted under the law are domestic and agricultural workers along with those in "bona fide" executive positions or in "learned professions" making $25 a week.

Future Looks Bright, Says Ford, 74, Friday

(International News Service) DEARBORN, Mich., July 29.—Henry Ford struck an optimistic note today as he looked forward to the next quarter century of his life.

The automobile magnate, 74 years old tomorrow, planned his usual simple birthday anniversary celebration, with an early rising, work at his huge River Rouge plant and the other ordinary things of his routine life.

Looking to the future, Ford said: "I have nothing but optimism for the future. I look forward to a great industrial year. The present mess will go more good to the country than most people expect."

Asked what he meant by the "present mess," Ford explained: "I mean the mixing of backward politics, stupid business and labor exploitation that has been trying to hold up progress in this country."

"I believe that a great many people have been put in their places—people who have been led into strikes. They believed in miracles and thought that things could be had by merely demanding them. But it will all work out."

"Improvements must be built—they cannot be talked into existence. Education will take care of that. People are learning by being disillusioned. False promises are failing and the people will iron out the problems."

Chief among the birthday observances will be his annual visit to the 100 Greenfield Village children who each year give him a bouquet on his birthday.

(International News Service) WAYNESBURG, Pa., July 29.—The sun was shining brightly in Waynesburg today but everybody predicted it will rain before midnight, thus fulfilling the community's unique tradition that it always rains here July 29.

Veteran residents say that in the past 61 years it has failed to rain on July 29 only twice.

In addition, they pointed out that the official forecast for Western Pennsylvania today was for fair weather with showers late in the day.

As usual, there were no takers of Byron Daily's standing bet of a new hat that it will rain. Daily, a druggist, is the official recorder of the annual July 29 rains.

Martin Sought
Divorces

LOVE LETTER IS REVEALED

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 29.—As Stanley A. Martin, Jr., faced arraignment today on a charge of homicide in the slaying of Mrs. Florence Jackson, police learned a double divorce had been planned by the 29-year-old salesman and the wealthy 37-year-old Queens matron before she was strangled in a parked car early Tuesday.

Julius Garrell, attorney for the slain woman, revealed that only ten hours before her death, she instructed him to start divorce proceedings against Bert Jackson, her brother husband. It also was learned Martin had asked his estranged wife, Mrs. Evelyn Martin, to obtain a divorce so that he might marry Mrs. Jackson.

Authorities said Mrs. Martin's answer was that she had no money with which to bring the action.

Letter Revealed
Indication that Mrs. Jackson feared her young lover's affection was waning was revealed in a recent letter to him, which read in part: "Oh, my darling, how I have missed you! It has been three days now and I haven't heard from you. I feel I am going mad. . . . Why don't you get in touch with me? You are so cruel to me. . . . when you know how much I love you."

Martin's original story to police that he had murdered his sweetheart "by request" was being checked after possibility developed one or both of the lovers might have planned to leap from an airplane during a sightseeing flight last Thursday. Pilot "Speed" Hanzlik said he was positive they were his passengers on the flight, and that the man opened the door of the plane three times while they were in the air.

AIR RAID IS MADE ON CHINESE SECTION OF CITY BY JAPS

Japanese war planes raided the Chinese quarter of Tientsin, causing "appalling havoc."

The Japanese bombs, said the dispatch, were aimed at the city's principal buildings in the Chinese district, and destroyed the municipal center.

They also caused havoc among the northern suburbs.

State Of Emergency
Tientsin, China, July 28.—Bitter fighting between Chinese and Japanese troops raged in and around Tientsin today and a state of emergency was immediately proclaimed in the foreign areas of the city.

Immediate precautions were taken for protection of American and other foreign lives and property. British volunteers stood by, ready for any emergency.

As bullets flew in all directions, a French soldier was killed and two more were wounded. Likewise, an Italian marine was killed and two were wounded.

They were struck in the foreign concession by stray bullets.

As the battle raged, fire suddenly broke out in the Japanese airport here, following an attempt by Chinese militia to capture it.

Chinese troops remained completely in control of the west and central stations in Tientsin and Japanese troops remained at the east station within the British concession.

Chinese, however, commanded the road leading to this station.

Perched on adjacent roof-tops, the Chinese fired at traffic along this road and virtually isolated the station and the Japanese occupying it from all other parts of the foreign area.

The Japanese were virtually trapped.

Burst of Fighting
The attempt of Chinese militia to capture the Japanese airport, and east arsenal resulted in a burst of fighting which made the city look like a battle field.

The airport is situated just outside Tientsin. When the attempt to capture it was made, all the Japanese planes there ascended.

Then the planes dropped bombs and machine-gunned Chinese snipers hidden on the ground.

Masses of Chinese troops, supported by inflated peasants, were reported occupying all strategic villages around Tientsin, including the important Peitsang station 12 miles away.

Two hundred Japanese troops were marooned inside a Japanese school at Nankai.

Firing Dies Down
The Japanese concession was isolated and the Chinese were reported planning to attack the Japanese barracks in the suburb of Haikwan-su.

French concession authorities prohibited passage of Japanese military units through the French area on grounds it would draw Chinese fire upon the concession.

Chinese militiamen seized lighters loaded with Japanese military supplies.

A Japanese military communique issued at dawn this morning said "remnants" of Chinese troops entered Tientsin at 2 a. m. and opened fire. Precautionary measures were immediately instituted by Japanese troops, "which are now suppressing the Chinese remnants."

The firing died down at dawn for a time.

PRISONERS' SONG
The policeman approached the organ grinder and said, "You will have to accompany me."

"All right," replied the musician. "What are you going to sing?"

Second Baptist Pastor Is Dead

Rev. W. W. Nelson, 71, Dies
At Parsonage Wednesday Afternoon

LOCAL MINISTER FOR MANY YEARS

Rev. W. W. Nelson, for fifteen years pastor of the Second Baptist church of New Castle, died in the parsonage, 109 West North street, Wednesday afternoon at the age of 71 years.

His church members and many friends had been concerned by his health for some time but he continued his work long after he was really able. It was just two weeks ago that he resigned himself to the inevitable and went to bed. For a short time he underwent treatment in the Jameson Memorial hospital, and then, several days ago, returned to his home.

Rev. Nelson's death closes an honorable life, 32 years of which were passed as a minister of the gospel. He was born in Botetown county, Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Nelson and July 25, 1866, he was ordained to the ministry in 1905, a year after he had preached his first sermon.

In the early years of his work he served Baptist pastorates in Wrightsville, Millsburg and Glenfawn, Virginia, and then, on September 15, 1922, accepted a call extended by the old Second Baptist congregation of New Castle, then located on West Falls street.

Built New Church
After he had taken charge of the local pastorate the members saw the completion of a beautiful new brick church and parsonage on West North street, realization of a dream that had long been theirs.

Rev. Nelson was a member of the Minister's Mutual association of New Castle. He leaves his wife, Mildred, two sons, Hansford C. and William, and an adopted daughter, Mrs. Rachel Ward, of New Castle. Two sisters, Mrs. Annie Burkes and Miss Elva Nelson, of Falling Spring Valley, Va., a sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Sanderson, of New Castle, two brothers, Jackson, of Greensburg, Pa., and Milton, of Milling Spring Valley, Va., and one grandson, William T. Nelson.

Funeral On Sunday
Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Second Baptist church with Rev. J. C. Hairston, of Pittsburgh, officiating. Interment will be made in Graceland cemetery.

The body will be at the parsonage from 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon until 10 o'clock Sunday morning. From that hour until time of interment Rev. Nelson will lie in the church which he served so long and so faithfully.

SELECT SITE NEAR BUTLER FOR STATE SANITARIUM

It would be "a great step forward in our fight against tuberculosis," Dr. Edith McBride-Dexter, secretary of health, said today.

State officials selected the Charles J. Robinson farm, two miles northwest of Butler, as the site for the proposed sanatorium, to be built by the general state authority as part of a $55,000,000 institutional building program.

Governor Earle appointed a committee of physicians to study sites submitted by the department of health, said Dr. Dexter. "This committee agreed in every respect that Mercer county's site was suitable but they favored the site in Butler on account of its being closer to Pittsburgh. They felt that Mercer, Lawrence and Beaver counties should be ruled out on account of bordering on the Ohio state line."

"It is apparent that the closer proximity of the Butler site to Pittsburgh served to sway the ultimate selection of the new sanatorium."

Simple Bridal Outfit

Because he believes that simplicity should be the keynote of every bridal outfit, Edward Stevenson, screen fashion designer, created a wedding ensemble of exceptional charm for Harriet Hilliard to wear in a new picture. The gown is white mousseline, sweeping in an unbroken line from shoulder to floor, with a yoke made entirely of tiny crystal and pearl beads. Pearls and crystal form the tiny skull cap and are scattered over the tulle veil.

Several months ago, when he was kidnapped and held for two weeks by the famous "young" marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang in the North, Chinese army headquarters, Chang Hsueh-Liang issued a self-condemnation statement, following his release, which resulted mainly from the heroic efforts of his American educated wife.

Accused Himself
At that time, Chiang accused himself of failing to maintain proper discipline, thus making his abduction possible.

Tungchow has been the center of bitter fighting for the past 24 or more hours. Both Chinese and Japanese officials have issued conflicting claims regarding its capture.

Previous military reports indicated the Chinese had been forced to withdraw from Lungtang and Fengtai, Japanese army headquarters, which the Chinese previously had claimed to have captured.

account of the steep, narrow hill. If the hill were widened and improved it would no doubt be a popular route for east side traffic.

Pretty soon the old timers will be talking about Ryantown, Mullen-town, Glabtown, Reynoldsown, Pumpkintown, and a lot of other old familiar haunts. Do you know where these places were located?

Urchins swimming under the East Washington street bridge had a new game yesterday. Each had an inner tube which, when rolled against the current, would spin. The game was to see whose tube would roll the longest.

"WALKABUSTER" IN CONGRESS

With mirrors—it's done with roll calls.

For three days the G. O. P. has been roll-calling "em to death. Through long practice, they know when a congressman hears the roll call bell he can be depended upon to drop everything and rush to the house lest the folks back home check up and decide he is playing golf on their time.

Although they haven't measured it, Republicans figure that every time a congressman rushes from the house office buildings to the floor and back, he's done at least a half mile's foot.

With the house weary from seven consecutive months in the harness, the G. O. P. further figures that by administering several doses of those half-mile trudges daily, even a Democrat ought to get tired and want to go home.

RECEPTION GIVEN FOR MRS. DUFF

Old apple trees and garden flowers on the spacious grounds surrounding the Walmo home of Mrs. Jos. S. Rice, Melville Lane, furnished a perfect setting for the reception honoring Mrs. Wendell W. Duff, Indiana, on Wednesday afternoon. This lovely affair was sponsored by the A. U. R. Girls of Central Presbyterian church, assisted by the various missionary societies of the congregation.

On the reception committee were Mrs. George W. Conway, president of the Shenango Presbyterian and the Philanthropies; Mrs. David Thompson from the Women's Auxiliary; Mrs. George Roof from the S. of D. Girls; Miss Ethel Douglas from the O. U. Girls; Mrs. Clifford Frost and Mrs. Robert Duff from the A. U. R. Girls.

The program opened with a solo, "The Birthday," by Woodman, sweetly sung by Miss Margaretta Hess, Mrs. Propst, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Wendell W. Duff, who is now home on furlough.

Mrs. Duff spoke of the economic conditions that prevail in India, and gave the causes of widespread poverty. She mentioned the diseases peculiar to those people and told of the work in the hospitals and how the death rate of infants is being lowered by the teaching of cleanliness and hygiene. Many other features of her mission work and the work of the church in the field were given, the address being most interesting.

After viewing a display of dolls dressed in the style of India, decorated brass, fans, carvings, pictures, etc., the program closed with a song and prayer.

Mrs. John F. Walters and her committee served punch and tea cakes from an attractively appointed table decorated with choice summer garden flowers, under a large apple tree. Miss Hess again pleased the 85 guests present with the familiar air "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree."

Sides in serving were Mrs. C. Paul Shoff, Mrs. J. Glenn Anderson, Mrs. Roland Peden, Mrs. Kenneth Peterson, Mrs. M. E. Butley, Mrs. L. G. Rudessill and the Misses Helen Ewing, Fannie Love, Maude Mitchell and Belle Offutt. Mrs. Henry Bratschle served as transportation chairman. Mrs. E. D. McGuire and Mrs. E. L. Thompson of the social committee were unable to be present.

Miss Margaret Duff, a sister-in-law of the honored guest, was a special guest.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MONITOR SYSTEM DISCUSSED
In a well-regulated school, especially at the junior high school level, or above, there are pupil monitors in the halls and around the school building and grounds. These monitors are usually elected by their classmates and are supposed to remind their fellow students who are disorderly of the rules of the school, and to prevail upon these offenders to cease their wrong behavior. As a rule, they succeed remarkably well. Although these monitors are given authority to report all offenders to the teacher or disciplinary student group, most monitors in the "teen age" don't feel the need of making such reports, except in rare instances, since they are successful at persuasion. The adolescent student, moreover, dislikes to be a tattler, and younger school children are different. Some between the ages of six and twelve are never happier than when they are privileged to serve as monitors, and become official tattlers.

The monitor system in the elementary grades often works very badly, and is at its worst, perhaps, when the teacher, leaving her room, assigns a child to be in charge and to report any misbehavior in her absence. The child chosen is one who the teacher supposes will surely "tell," and who her comrades think will surely "tell," the assumption being that all the other children, because of the fear of being told on, will be good.

Makes Child Enemy
What the teacher fails to consider is that the appointment of such a child renders him immediately an enemy of his classmates as they believe. If they can't be devil him to their satisfaction while he is the monitor, they surely get even with him in all sorts of ways outside of school. Parents dread to have their children chosen as monitors, for they know the cost. Many parents write and tell me that they wish this practice of appointing monitors to serve in the teacher's absence would cease.

We can see, of course, that the teacher properly desires to have order in her absence. But hundreds of teachers do have order without resort to monitors. In various cities, I have walked into elementary classrooms, to find no teacher there during my visit. The children were managing themselves without a boss. They are busily absorbed in their work. The teacher had trained them in self-management, and had made each pupil feel himself responsible for good conduct during the hours and days she was with them, so that she could feel sure they would continue in right conduct at any time she found occasion to leave the room.

This same principle applies to children of school age in the home. If we can guide them in right conduct while we are at home with them, they are likely to continue doing right while we are away from them or they away from us.

EVER GET IN A SLUMP?
I remember talking to a baseball player who'd been in a "slump" for weeks. His batting average had fallen off from .340 to .190, which means—if you don't happen to understand baseball—that he wasn't getting even one hit out of five times at bat.

He was catching and throwing as well as ever. His eyes didn't hurt. He wasn't tired. He wasn't sick. He felt fine, he said. And he was hitting the ball, too. . . . The only trouble, a serious one, was that he was hitting directly into the hands of infielders and outfielders. He'd stand up there at the plate, take a good cut at the ball, and smack it far out, but there was always a man under it to catch it—and he'd wander disconsolately back to the bench and sit down and put his head between his hands and curse his luck. . . . And maybe he'd get into the dumps and lose his spirit and start worrying and be unable to sleep and be quite worthless to the club.

Or suddenly he'd snap out of it. He'd get up there wondering whether his jinx was still with him, and the pitcher would shoot the ball over the plate and he'd drive it over the shortstop's head for a clean hit—and all his confidence would come back and the sun would be shining for him and life would be bright and cheerful. The slump would be over.

And everybody, in one way or another, knows how the ball player in a slump feels. The housewife in the home, the man on the job, the doctor, the lawyer, the farmer, the sailor, the soldier, the engineer, the actor, the child and the adult—all have their times when life loses its salt and dreams go dead and the goal they are seeking seems far beyond all possibility of attainment by mortal hands. The pulse is low and the rhythm is slack and joyful confidence grows languid and pale. The human spirit is in a slump.

The wise human being learns to accept this slump as a part of living, to take it as philosophically as possible, to live easily, to make no irrevocable decisions while the slump is on him—and to be calmly confident that sooner or later the vital optimism that is at the heart of our spirit will rise again, take control and lift the disconsolate being out of his dead despair.

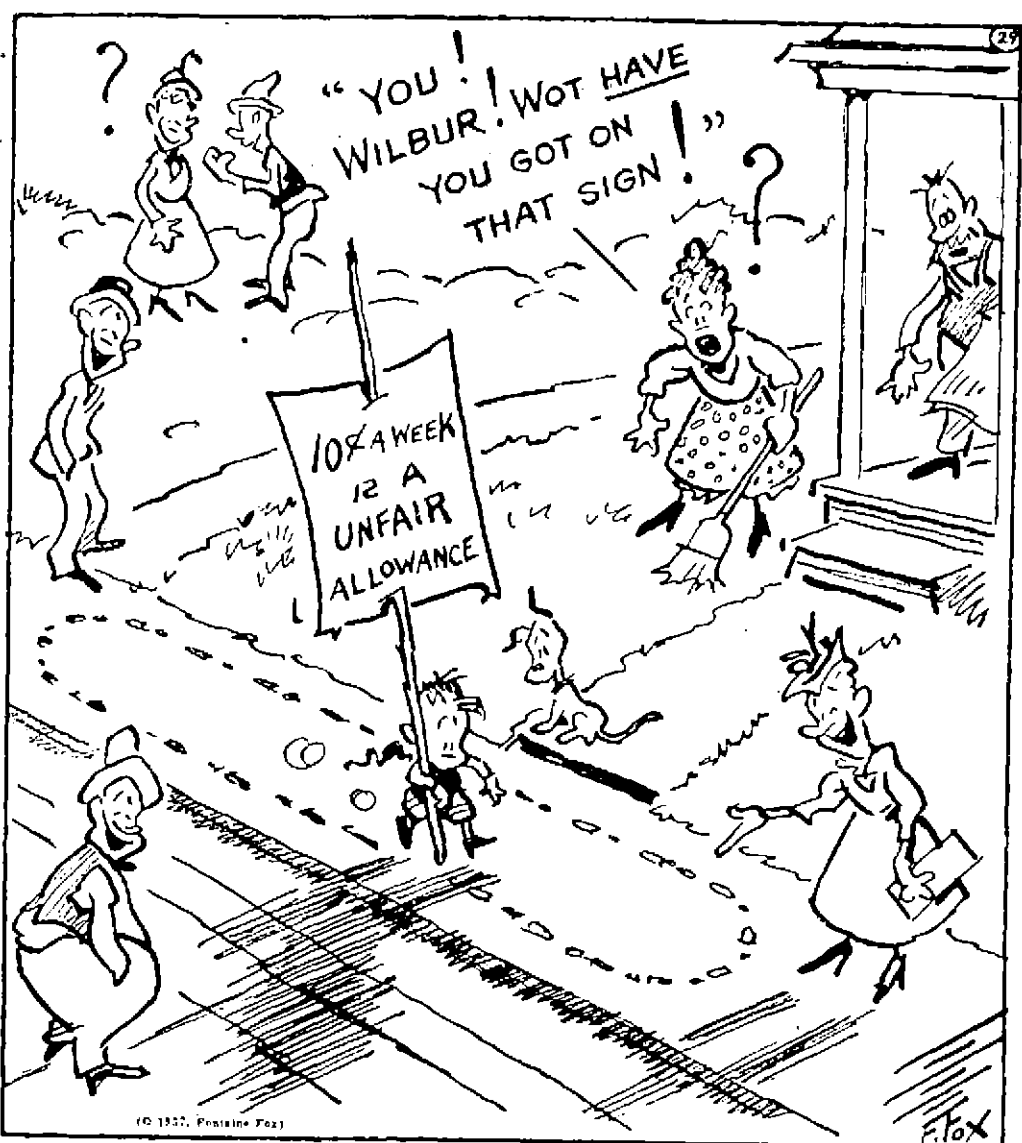

The waiting is long and it may seem weary, endless, but we may rise at its end to a summit that is higher than we have ever known.

Freddie looked very thoughtfully. Then suddenly his face lit up. "To tell you the truth, sir," he said, "my throat was so sore that I couldn't even speak English."

New York Mayor Fight Watched Prelude To National Campaign President Seeks Party Harmony

By LESLIE EICHEL, Central Press Columnist
THE NEW YORK mayoralty campaign may be a prelude in minor form to what the national campaign will be in 1940. That is what many are saying. The Tammany conservative Democrats have put up Senator Royal S. Copeland, who also is trying for the nomination; Grover S. Whalen is the New Deal man, trying for the Democratic nomination; Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia is the Fusionist, the real liberal. The nomination primary occurs the middle of September; the election, in November. One of the men will face La Guardia; it seemed likely to be the extreme conservative, Copeland, against the liberal, until the sudden death of Tammany Leader James J. Dooling.

Now to work out the theory of the next national campaign on the same general plan seems simple. But there is one big difference—a congressional election will be held two years prior to the national campaign, in 1938. And, if surveys mean anything, the New Deal will get another strong mandate—its fourth.

OUTLOOK
The anti-New Dealers among the Democrats—the men who killed the president's supreme court plan—have not so solid a background at home as elsewhere. If court's continue to invalidate New Deal measures, even a small part of them, or if the New Deal shows up as it is, a majority of constituents may go further left than they yet have gone. Even at present, every survey shows a majority of the population pro-New Deal.

Thus, the matter among the Democrats may be settled in 1938, rather than in 1940. Some leading anti-New Deal senators come up for re-election in 1938—notably Clark of Missouri, George of Georgia, McGowan of Nevada, Tamm of Maryland and Van Nuys of Indiana. And Pennsylvania probably will replace the Republican Davis with a Democrat.

REPRISALS?
And, contrary to the belief spread by anti-Roosevelt men, the president is not likely to enter any campaign of reprisals against anti-New Deal men. Indications are that he will strive for party harmony. And that, strange as it may seem at first blush, will harm him with the voters more than anything else, according to observers in the field.

A large mass of the population believes that the president surrenders too easily to anti, in order to preserve harmony. If this occurs too often, this mass of voters will look for a stronger liberal, indeed a radical.

There is no question that a great group of organized workers desired the president's court bill, or a stronger one. The farm population probably will not care either way, as long as prices were rising. But prices may drop abruptly in the future, and if the government finds measures of "relief" classed as "unconstitutional," then the farmers will join with labor.

The victory of the anti-New Dealers over the court bill was merely one of several victories. That has been overlooked. But the people affected have not overlooked the fact.

Not only have New Deal measures been cast aside but those which have been passed have been emasculated to cause them to be worse than no measures. For example, the president's committee on farm tenancy recommended certain measures for "curing" this sore on the agricultural face. The administration backed these recommendations. But the anti-New Dealers merely created another money-lending agency. Besides, the measure does not meet squarely the fact that the small individual land-holder no longer can compete with mass production.

That is as true of manufacturing as of agriculture. Thus, the next crash of prices (seen by economists as inevitable, for nothing has been changed), will find a larger mass of people than ever cast to the bottom. And a larger mass than ever to follow, not a moderate liberal, but a man of violent action, either Communist or Fascist. It all depends on the personality who arises, and his thinking—or his designs.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A FAIRY STORY

The fragrant flowers bordering the famous canal in Mexico City, according to an ancient legend, were once a beautiful Indian maid. They are the floating gardens of Xochimilco.

The story goes that there was once an Indian girl of humble rank named Iquinoxochitl who was so beautiful and virtuous that famous warriors, kings and men of great wealth came from far and near to seek her hand. The girl, however, spurned all these men of rank, for she loved a boy of the village with whom she had grown up. And she believed that he loved her. Hoping to hasten his declaration of love by display of industry, Iquinoxochitl arose every morning before sunrise to sweep clean the flower-covered lanes which led to her cottage.

In the meantime her rejected suitors visited the Goddess of Trickery, crowding her temple day and night, moaning over their unrequited love for Iquinoxochitl. Finally, the goddess, tired of trying to console them, and jealous because it was their love for a mere mortal which brought them to her, visited the girl and pronounced this sentence upon her:

"Because of the foolish pride thou shalt live until the end of the world chaste and pure. No mortal shall ever wed thee. And the paths which thou has swept so industriously shall be but canals of water, with flower gardens floating upon them. In these watery lanes men shall search for thee and find only flowers and perfume. Thou shalt be called 'Xochimilco'."

And the next day at sunrise it was found that Iquinoxochitl and her family and their cottage had disappeared—and in their place was a cluster of floating islands covered with fragrant flowers.

July 29 In History—The Landgrave of Hesse-Cassel was paid $550,000, plus $55 for each man killed and $12 for each man wounded, for the 1632 men he sold England's George III to fight the rebellious colonies in America. The Count of Hesse-Inspruck, the Duke of Brunswick, the Margrave of Anspach-Beyreuth, the Prince of Waldeck and the Prince of Anhalt-Zerbst made similar deals, even accepted smaller amounts.

However, there were Germans who came over voluntarily to fight on the Colonists' side. There was Von Steuben, the Prussian, and there was Baron Johann DeKalb, who was born in Bavaria, July 29, 1721.

He entered the French army at 22 as a lieutenant, rose to be a brigadier-general. In 1768, during a visit to America as a secret service agent or spy of the French government, DeKalb made so many warm friends that, when our revolution began, he offered his services to

DEAD

I saw him living and breathing and moving about us and yet He was dead to the beauty of summer and blind to the misgivings.

He was deaf to the cardinal singing up high on the tip of a tree. For the sight and the tinkle of money was all he could hear or could see.

He ate and he drank at his dinner as one who was counting the cost. The minutes he sat at the table were computed as dollars he'd lost; and though there was laughter about him he never once lifted his head.

Nor beauty nor pity could rouse him; to things such as that he was dead.

I saw him living and breathing and moving about among men. Yet all that he knew was his ledgers. His red ink and black and his pen.

He saw not the stars in the heavens; he cared not when roses were red. The world spread great splendor about him, but he saw them no more than the dead.

CLAIMS CIVIL SERVICE MOVE IS INSINCERE

Congressman Assails Guffey-Lawrence Move To Enlist Postmasters

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 29—Branding Democratic representatives insincere in their espousal of civil service requirements for government employees, Rep. Robert F. Rich (R) Pennsylvania, on Wednesday in the congressional record assailed "political corruption in the post office department" and appealed for a "thorough investigation" by the justice department.

Rich declared that Senator Guffey (D) Pennsylvania and the Pennsylvania Democratic state committee, numbering among its officials Gov. Earle, are sponsoring, for purposes of revenue and political power, a campaign to enlist Pennsylvania's 2,614 postmasters in the Pennsylvania state association of postmasters. This is a new organization competing with the national league of district postmasters, which has 17,000 voluntary members.

Introducing letters allegedly written by Guffey and David L. Lawrence, chairman of the Pennsylvania Democratic state committee, entreating postmasters to join the new association and pay their dues, Rich said:

"It is wrong to urge the civil service postmasters to be intimidated and harassed by the state political set-up such as we have in Pennsylvania by the Guffey-Earle Lawrence combine. . . .

"I appeal to the attorney-general to make a thorough investigation on this charge of political corruption in the post office department. It is vital to our laws to keep political activity from this branch of the government service. . . .

"I have heard the membership of the house state they are for civil service, especially those on the Democratic side, but every time we have a vote on something that is in favor of civil service the Democratic members of the house try to keep from having a record vote.

Rich displayed a letter from Lawrence to Pennsylvania postmasters which said that Postmaster-General Farley was "interested" in the success of the association membership drive. Farley, replying to an inquiry by Rich, said he had "no objections" to organizations of postal employees, but has not "directed or insisted" on their joining up.

To legend is that Benito (was named for the Mexican patriot, Benito Juarez) tossed a coin to decide whether to go to the U. S. or remain in Italy.

Dr. Foster Announces For School Director

East Side Optometrist A Candidate For Republican Nomination

Dr. Arthur B. Foster, of 449 East Washington street, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for school director, subject to the Republican primary on September 14. His announcement follows:

"At the primary election on Tuesday, September 14, the Republican party will nominate three candidates for school director to fill the places on the school board which expire this year. I am a candidate for one of those places.

"It has been suggested that the district in which I reside has a large interest in the welfare of the school system. In that district there are five large schools with the district not represented on the board.

"The standard of the school system in New Castle is high and it is my earnest desire that they be kept at its high level. Voters are entitled to know something of the background of the candidates and for this reason and no other I present the following facts:

"I have always resided in New Castle save for time spent in the army during the World War. I am a graduate of the New Castle schools. Later I attended Carnegie Institute of Technology and the University of Rochester, N. Y. School of Optometry. For the past 17 years I have practiced my profession in New Castle.

"School directors are not paid for their services nor should they be. It is a service that can be given much better if the directors serve for no other purpose than that of advancing the interests of the youth and the adults of their community.

"I ask the votes of Republicans, realizing that if nominated and elected I will become a member of a body of men who serve their community well."

Opinion Settles Property Fight

Court Holds Mrs. Bridget DiGennaro Entitled To Property Held By Lawrence Riccio

In the equity case of Bridget L. DiGennaro against Lawrence Riccio, Judge James A. Chambers handed down an opinion at Lawrence county court in which the contention to the ownership of property by Mrs. DiGennaro is upheld.

The case was one in which Bridget DiGennaro had purchased a property from Bessie DeGastro, a widow, in January, 1930, subject to two mortgages. The first mortgage had been given to the State Capital Savings and Loan association, and the second to Morris Newmark.

The property was sold by the sheriff in November, 1934, the State Capital buying it in for $50. Mrs. DiGennaro wanted to repurchase it from the State Capital, but was told that it was not the policy of the association to resell property to the same person from whom it had been taken, but that she could get someone else to purchase it for her at a price of $1,600, plus repairs estimated to cost around $350.

Mrs. DiGennaro secured the defendant, Lawrence Riccio, to purchase the property and take title with the understanding that she would make the payments and it was to be her property. After she had paid in several hundred dollars she asked to have the property transferred to her, but this the dependant refused to do and the equity suit resulted.

Judge Chambers finds that while the trust was not clearly defined, all the payments had been made by Mrs. DiGennaro. He decrees that the property shall be deeded to Mrs. DiGennaro, her children and grandchildren. She is to have a one-half interest and the children a one-sixth interest as they become of age. In the meantime Riccio is restrained from encumbering the property.

Election Boards Have Bigger Job

Many Candidates Will Have Names Written In On Ballots

FAIL TO FILE
BECAUSE OF FEE

Election officials at the coming primary are going to have considerable extra work to do, as a result of the failure of candidates to file for borough and township offices. In some districts there are no candidates on any ticket for such offices as burgess, justice of peace, supervisor, school director, auditor, tax collector and judge of election and inspectors of election. In the borough of Volant, no candidates filed for anything.

In some of the other boroughs there were a few candidates for various offices, but very few contests. In some all the candidates who filed were Republicans. In others they were Democrats. Lack of interest in the offices is believed to have been due to the filing fees required this year. It was something new in the political line, and resentment is indicated by the lack of candidates.

Where there are no candidates for an office the elector may write in the name of any person he desires on the ballot. This is certain to result in a multiplicity of names and a lot of extra work for election boards.

Following are candidates who have filed in the boroughs and some townships:

Bessemer
In Bessemer, borough all candidates filed on the Republican ticket. They are as follows: Burgess, Carl D. Montgomery; council, L. Andel Johnson, Roy C. Wallis, John Brentlin, Jr., Paul A. Hinson, 2 years; no candidates on any ticket for justice of peace, judge of election, auditors or inspectors of election.

Elkport
Burgess: Republican, C. W. Rinker.

Democratic, James A. Gallaher, tax collector. Republican, C. R. McEllwain, school director. Democratic, John F. Callen, judge of election. Democratic, Mrs. Ruth Campbell; inspector. Democratic, Anna Ford and Irene Cogley. No candidate on any ticket for council, auditor and justice of peace.

Enon
No Democratic candidates filed for any office in Enon. Republican candidates are as follows: Burgess, J. O. Fischer; council, C. L. Marshall, Albert Lambright, N. E. Avery, Earl Musser; school director, Holmes Braden and O. L. Moore; justice of peace, H. E. Strohecker; judge of election, Philip Dewalt; inspector, Grace Huston. No candidate for auditor or tax collector.

New Wilmington

McCrum; school director, six years, Earl Black, two years, Wallis Snadler, W. V. Mitchell; judge of election, J. W. Williamson; inspector, I. C. Runk. Democratic Thurman Blake.

South New Castle Borough
No Republican candidates. Democratic candidates: Burgess, Charles W. Lynn; council, Chas. W. Thompson, James D. Miles, Leroy Anderson, Philip Keizer and Richard Morgan; school director, Thos. Phelps, Clarence L. Hannon; judge of election, Marjorie Keizer; inspector, Agnes Cochran. No candidates on any ticket for auditor and tax collector.

Volant
No candidates on any ticket filed for the borough of Volant.

Wampum
Burgess, no candidates; council, Republican, Edward Snare, Charles Butler, Louis Ferrante, Milton Flynn; auditor, no candidates; tax collector, Republican, E. T. Alster; school director, Republican, Chas. S. Ferguson, W. H. Grinnell; judge of election, Republican, W. A. Brown; inspector, Democratic, Olive A. Davis.

Big Beaver Township
Township supervisor, Republican, George C. McBride; Democratic, Charles D. Harper and Forrest P. Freed. No other candidates filed except for assessor in township at large, the candidate being William Buchanan on the Republican ticket. In the first district no candidates filed for judge of election or inspector. In the second district, Cecil Leonard, Republican, filed for judge of election.

Hickory Township
The only candidates filed in Hickory township are, Joseph H. McBride, Republican for supervisor and Frank Frye, Democrat for tax collector.

Mayor La Guardia Expert Linguist

Can Speak French, German,
Yiddish And Yugoslavian,
It Develops

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 29.—Ability as a linguist and a diplomat are not unimportant requisites in the job of running this cosmopolitan city, it developed Tuesday.

Miss Marie Starek, a statuesque French brunette, attempted to barge into the office of Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia. When a policeman suggested an appointment might be arranged later, she adopted the slogan "use the telephone, it's quicker." She adopted the slogan figuratively, however, by ripping out a phone and hitting the policeman over the eye with it, he averred.

The slogan worked like a charm. for the mayor heard the commotion and ran out of his office. He spoke to Miss Starek in French and learned she had been released by the WPA and wanted reinstatement. Assured her case would be investigated, she cooled off and departed.

Later, the mayor switched from French to Italian to speak over the radio in a memorial program for the late Guglielmo Marconi.

In recent months the versatile mayor has been called upon to address public gathering in German, Yiddish and Yugoslavian.

No candidates have filed nomination papers for county surveyor. This is an important office as there is no salary attached, and nobody seems to know exactly what the duties of the office are. Still, the title ought to be worth something.

Preparations are being made by the county commissioners for a drawing next Saturday afternoon at which the candidates will be given an opportunity to try their hands at a game of chance, to determine places on the ticket. This drawing is somewhat on the same order as Bingo, which has been playfully outlawed at our county fair, but it seems to be about the only way that will make the candidates feel that they are getting a square deal.

"NEW CASTLE'S FINEST MEN'S AND BOYS' STORE"

Some Information On Parking Meter Plans

It may not be long until parking meters have been installed in various streets. The city employs installing the meters now are working in Washington street. For the benefit of motorists The News publishes a list of thoroughfares where the city proposes to place meters. The thoroughfares are:

Washington street between Court street and Shenango river.
 Jefferson street between the Neshannock creek bridge and Falls street.
 Mercer street between South street and Falls street.
 Mill street between South Mill street bridge and Falls street.
 East street between East Washington street and North street.
 North street between North Jefferson street and Neshannock avenue.
 Long avenue between Hamilton street and Moravia street.
 South Mill street between Long avenue and Reynolds street.
 Liberty street between Plum street and Clayton street.
 Neshannock avenue between East street and North street.
 Croton avenue between Mill street and North street bridge.

After the meters are installed a motorist shall pay 5 cents to park for one hour between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and between 8 a. m. and 9 p. m. on Saturdays, excepting holidays. No parking fee is necessary on Sunday.

According to Mayor Charles E. McGrath he has had no complaints from Washington street merchants about the parking meters. He said that salesmen with whom he has talked believe they are a benefit. It is the opinion of the mayor that when the meters are operative persons who wish to transact business in stores will have no trouble finding parking space and will be able to do their business quickly.

The only ones the parking meters may affect, according to the city's chief executive are motorists who park their cars for hours at a time, or leave them downtown all day. Persons who own parking lots around the city are booking business for parking space in the vacant lots. Many of those who formerly let their cars stand on the street now are using garages.

Mayor McGrath not only will help to solve the parking situation but in time will prove a financial benefit to the city, if the situation in other cities where meters are working, is a criterion.

Will Sanction Mattern's Hop On Conditions

(International News Service)
 WASHINGTON, July 29.—Having once refused permission for the hop the department of commerce today relented to announce that the projected trans-polar flight of Jimmy Mattern, American air ace, to Soviet Russia, will be sanctioned, under two conditions.

These are:
 1. The adequacy of Mattern's equipment and personnel first must be determined by the U. S. bureau of air commerce.
 2. Favorable reports regarding the scientific value and other utility of the flight must be received from the war department, navy department, and weather bureau.

State Crops In Good Condition

Weather Conditions In State For Most Part
 Favor Crops

(International News Service)
 PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—Although weather conditions for the most part aided crops in Pennsylvania during the past week, a few local thundershowers damaged crops in some areas, the U. S. department of agriculture reported Wednesday in its weekly synopsis of weather and crop conditions in this state.

"Oats harvest was in progress all of the week, and was nearing completion in some regions," the report stated. "It added: 'Corn continued to make a rapid growth, and the early fields are developing ears. The crop, as a whole, is looking fine. Wheat threshing continues with good yields reported in nearly all parts of the state.'

"Pastures and meadows are mostly good. The second crop of alfalfa is doing well, and will be ready for cutting early in August."

"Truck crops are far too good, with sweet corn and tomatoes coming to market. Another bumper crop of tomatoes is in prospect, probably equal to that of last year. Potatoes are unusually good and promising."

"Orchard fruits are fair to good with apples dropping more than usual. Despite the heavy drop, the crop promises to be better than that of last year, while peaches seem to promise average returns. Blackberries are ripening and are being brought to market in good supply."

"Reports on the tobacco crop indicate a gradual improvement, with the crop as a whole below standard."

Gen. Ballington Booth Is 80 Years Of Age

(International News Service)
 NEW YORK, July 29.—The accumulated wisdom of four-score years was summed up by General Ballington Booth Wednesday in observance of his 80th birthday.

The man who founded the Volunteers of America in 1895 issued the following precepts:
 Consider your body as the temple of the Holy Spirit.
 Keep your mind active.
 Take time to be holy with daily prayer.

Support the church of your faith. Cultivate the presence of God. He wants to enter your life. Take God into the details of your life. You naturally call on him in trouble.

Pray for this troubled, war-threatened world. Have a thankful spirit for the blessings of God, home, country and friends.

Work as if everything depended on work, and pray as if everything depended on prayer.

Think of death not as something to be dreaded, but as a great and new experience where loved ones are met and ambitions realized.

STOMACH BETTER--LOCAL LADY EATS FOOD LONG DENIED HER

Declares This Great Root, Herb And Alkaline Medicine Vendol, Is The Finest Thing She Ever Saw For Constipation, Dizziness, Stomach Distress And Painful Joints And Muscles.

It is always interesting to listen to the statements of our friends, especially when we know they are honest and sincere in what they say. Added interest is created in a statement coming from such a well known lady as Mrs. E. F. Eurban, residing at 1215 W. State St., New Castle, who gave the following report to the Vendol Man in New Castle Drug Co., recently:
 "I have been constipated for years and troubled with my stomach so that everything I ate would ferment and form gas. I was badly bloated and in the worst kind of misery. I had headaches, felt awfully dizzy at times and had terrible pains in my back and limbs.
 "I had taken different medicines that were recommended for these troubles but they didn't seem to relieve me. Vendol was so highly praised, however, that I tried it and got a real surprise by the quick benefits it gave.
 "My constipation was relieved and then my stomach was settled and that sour, gassy, acid condition eased. My sleep became sound and restful. I quit feeling dizzy.

MRS. E. F. EURBAN

"Vendol acted so wonderfully on me that I was really amazed, and now I want others to try this splendid medicine."
 Such words as these and those of many others which have been printed, have wide influence, for they come from men and women of standing and integrity, who have given Vendol a fair trial and have greatly benefited thereby.
 All leading druggists sell Vendol and the Vendol Man is at New Castle Drug Co., 35 E. Washington St., daily meeting local people and explaining how this great root, herb and alkaline medicine can help them. Come see him, no charge. The New Castle Drug Co., at 24 N. Mill St., also has Vendol on hand at all times.

S. U. V. DRUM CORPS WILL MEET FRIDAY

Members of the Sons of Union Veterans Drum Corps will meet in the Modern Woodmen of America Hall, Washington street, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. According to Lieutenant Frank Scheurom the purpose of the meeting is to conduct a practice session.

Agricultural Limestone Bin At Hillsville, Largest East Of Mississippi River

The largest bin east of the Mississippi for agricultural limestone is located at Hillsville, Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, twelve miles west of New Castle, on U. S. Route 224, and was recently erected by The Carbon Limestone Company, Youngstown, Ohio. This tremendous concrete and steel bin is 90x150x25 feet, and will hold 40,000,000 pounds (20,000 tons) of agricultural limestone.

Many farmers from this district have taken the opportunity to visit this giant bin and to see the shipping operations in the quarry where steam shovels with booms 90 feet long, and large dippers handling six yards of dirt at a time, remove the overburden from the limestone. They saw the large crushers making flux stone for the steel mills. This material is 2 1/2 x 5 1/2 inches in size. It is screened and the smaller pieces from 1/4 inch to 1 inch are removed, washed, then dried in kilns at 1200 degrees and pulverized into two grades of agricultural limestone.

The grades are identified by their fineness.

Much of the new equipment has to do with the bin that has six screw conveyors that run lengthwise of the concrete and steel building. These conveyors will handle 250 tons of limestone per hour. They remove the limestone from the storage bin to loading bins where three trucks can be loaded at one time. The loading bins are equipped with batch weighers, which weigh up to six tons. This method of weighing eliminates the weighing of trucks before and after loading to determine the weight.

The Carbon Limestone Company was incorporated in 1894 and were the early producers of agricultural limestone. Automatic bagging machines have eliminated hand operations; increased storage and new equipment enable the farmers to have limestone delivered from the quarry direct to the field.

The Carbon Limestone equipment shows the progress that has been made for the farmer in his drive for increased economy and efficiency.

"Full Crew Bill" Hearing Called Off Six Weeks

Dauphin County Judge Postpones Hearing Until September 6

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, July 28.—The fight of more than a score of carriers against Pennsylvania's new "full crew" law will be prolonged at least another six weeks and in the meantime the state can not enforce the enactment.

That was the status Wednesday of the suits entered by 44 railroads. The railroads, granted a temporary injunction restraining enforcement of the law, contend the statute is unconstitutional, unnecessary and would work a financial hardship on them rather than prove a safety measure. The state contended the law would increase employment and protect workers and the public.

The Pennsylvania railroad completed testimony in Dauphin county court yesterday when Judge John E. Cox adjourned court until September 7 and continued the temporary injunction. The hearings were stretched out over nearly six weeks.

The "full crew" law, enacted by the last legislature, provides for extra brakemen on passenger trains of more than 10 cars and freight trains of more than 50 cars. The law huddled a rocky road of opposition in the 132nd legislature.

Six On Duty Watching Roads

Lieutenant Kratzle is in charge of the highway division of the Pennsylvania Motor Police in Lawrence county. Corporal Keck is his subordinate and Privates Kaleta, Hoke, Miller and Yanner with Keck patrol the various roads day and night. Automobiles and motorcycles are used by the officers. No formal notice of any change in their operations has yet been made locally. These officers formerly were known as State Highway Patrol members.

Levanovsky Will Try For Record

Another Moscow To California Flight Is Planned By Soviet Airmen

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, July 28.—A third Russian polar flight, from Moscow to the California coast, will be attempted on Aug. 1, provided weather conditions are suitable. It was learned here today.

The object of this third flight is to materially cut down the flying time.

Chief pilot for the flight will be the Soviet ace, Sigismund Levanovsky. He will be accompanied by a crew of four or five men.

Plans of Levanovsky, Soviet Russia's greatest ace, to attempt a Russian hop were exclusively revealed by International News Service on July 10.

In an interview with the Moscow correspondent of International News Service on that date, Levanovsky expressed hope of being in the United States "within a month", but when pressed for details of his plans, said:

"We do not brag about our feats before we accomplish them."

Levanovsky gave the interview, the first he had ever granted a Russian, to a correspondent of the Soviet press, not carried by International News Service, that he had been arrested in Stalin's drive against Trotskyites.

Levanovsky achieved world fame in 1933 when he rescued James Mattem, American round-the-world flier, forced down in the wilds of Siberia.

Wimer In Race For Register-Recorder

Candidate For Republican Nomination For County Office At Primaries

EARL R. WIMER

Earl R. Wimer today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the office of register and recorder.

His announcement follows: The hats are now all in the ring and it becomes the privilege of the voters to select the one which fits them best, three candidates on the Republican ticket for the office of register and recorder, that eternal triangle.

My ambition to become your register and recorder (I believe public officials should have ambition) is not of an impromptu nature, but one of long standing as my friends and associates can well testify.

I am in this race to win, not merely for the purpose of diverting votes from another, and have made no deals nor any promises.

I will remember those days four years ago when the industrial horizon was very cloudy, how the voters at that time manifested their confidence in me by placing me in the office of city controller. For that confidence placed in me I have always endeavored to conduct myself and the affairs of my office honestly and efficiently, to recognize only the taxpayer as my superior officer, to be courteous to the public in conducting the business of the city and in every way to be a "Square Shooter" to the taxpayer instead of earning the title of a "One Termer".

To do this it has been necessary for me to keep from becoming entangled with the snares of factional politics which would have meant that I would have been bound to the dictates of political demagogues. I am not now the "machine candidate."

I will soon emerge from my first term of public office somewhat battle scarred, due to the above policy, but happy in the thought that I have received a useful education in municipal government and have accomplished several things for the best interests of the taxpayers.

I have raised the office of city controller from a mere adjunct of the finance department to the position of public officer of the city and have made the office worthy of its cost to the taxpayers.

The office of register and recorder is a very important one, the duties of which are set forth in the statutes of the commonwealth and embrace the registering of wills, recording of deeds and mortgages as well as collection of inheritance taxes. This work should be done by one well experienced in accounting and office work.

My long experience in the many branches of accounting and auditing work gained in my service with the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Co., followed by the last three and one half years experience in municipal accounting, I feel, amply qualify me for the high office which I seek.

I have always been a Republican, a lifelong resident of Lawrence county, a property owner and have always answered the call to take my part in those civic activities which have made New Castle and Lawrence county a better place in which to live.

The date of the Republican primaries is not far off. I have been calling on the voters for several months and will continue to do so, but it will be impossible to personally interview them all, so, to those who read this announcement I say, your vote is valuable, don't throw it away. I will appreciate it most highly.

EARL R. WIMER.

Straying Hands,

Brings Man Into Court On Coast

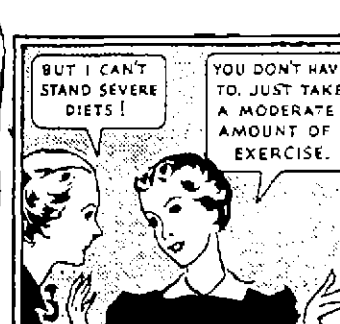

(International News Service) LOS ANGELES, July 28.—What may a gentleman do with his hands while he is measuring pretty girls for a bathing beauty contest?

That was the question baffling a court here today as Boris Posner, theatre manager, was recalled for a continuation of his trial on misconduct charges.

A dozen beautiful blondes and brunettes have testified that Posner's hands "wandered" while he was measuring their chests and thighs—but an equal number of beauties have sworn that the manager's hands did not stray beyond the point necessary to determine their qualifications for the contest. The case was to be decided today.

News Reels Are Real Barometer

Sentiment Of Public For People Who Matter Shown By Attitude Of Audiences

CIRCUS FELLOWS HEADS RIBBING CLUB

By O. O. MINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 29.—The news reels more than other barometer show how the winds are blowing for People Who Matter. In the neighborhood of houses as well as those patronized by a more ultra audience on Madison avenue there seems no restraint in giving the cheer or the bird. Here the public may see and hear how the populace grows not and cold for their idols. Not many long. Once there were only groans for Chief Justice Hughes but today the groans are drowned by the hurrahs. Hitler and Mussolini get mixed ovations. Mostly jeers.

Al Smith, for a time hooted, has come back into favor and is received as warmly as ever he was before he threatened to take his famous stroll. For a time there was only silence for Jimmy Walker but they soon forget and are applauding him again with fervor. Young La Follette is given the raspberry.

John L. Lewis comes in for a 70-30 reception. 70 hoots and 30 huzzahs. The President, before and after his re-election, received only enthusiastic salutes. But today in certain localities they are not so respectful. There are many who resort to the boo.

The Algonquin has the oldest bartender in the town. Past 70, he has been mixing drinks for more than 50 years. He was at the old Metropole at Prince and Broadway during the 1888 blizzard and for a long time mixed toddies for the sports at Niblo's Garden. But his years make him look a trifle out of focus in the surrounding picture of collegiate bartenders today. Most of them are in their 20's, bright-talking boys who know all the answers but from what we hear know very little about fashioning the fizzes.

The Mickey Finn, long an antidote for the barroom pest, still has a few able practitioners. But is rarely used in the bars. The night clubs employ it when the bouncers' requests for quiet fails. It is an innocuous tasting drink containing an emetic that makes the drinker suddenly bolt for the wash room—and in most instances he is too weak to want to play any more. In fact, so weak he usually has to be trundled to a taxi.

The most caustic ribbing organization in New York is the Circus Saints and Sinners Club, a goofy organization started by Dexter Fellows, circus press agent. Now and then they hold a dinner and initiate a new member—someone of headline importance. And if he cannot "take it" he had better stay away for he is the victim of every indignity with the possible exception of mayhem. All the pomp he ever had is deflated and if he tries back talk he will be hushed with a skush of custard pie smack in the kisser. They give such dinners in the ball rooms of large hotels where there is plenty of room to do their stuff.

There was a touch of neighborhood sentiment in the recent tribute to "Tech" Hannan, who has been the kindly keeper of Gramercy Park 35 years now, as one editorial put it "cultivating the children and the flowers." The neighbors backed up verbal appreciation with a purse of more than $1,000. And Dr. John H. Finley, editor of the New York Times, who resides in Gramercy, made a speech in which he lamented Hannan hadn't been superintendent of the Garden of Eden, thus saving the world much grief.

Bagatelles: Louis Sobol is the only New York columnist living in Greenwich Village. . . . William Gaxton is a pushover for necktie sales although Fred Astaire is said to have the biggest collection in the land. . . . Bill Seeman is one of the town's crack rhymers. . . . New York's most exclusive driveway is on the C. G. K. Billings estate on upper Riverside Drive, costing $250,000. . . . The late Ralph Barton's drawings now bring a good price among collectors.

Niched in a crevice of fashionable Sutton Place is a gay and rather expensive cafe with tiny garden enclosed by a whitewashed fence. It is called "A la Pomme Souffle" which is reminiscent of Amos Carter's crack when served potatoes souffle the first time at Ciro's in Paris. Pushing them away, he cried: "I won't eat these until I know who blew them up." (Copyright 1937, McNaught Syndicate Inc.)

Freeborne Announces Assembly Has Secured Producing Company

It was announced today by Norman Freeborne, Trades & Labor assembly, sponsor of the Labor celebration and exposition on Roscon site, September 6-11, inclusive, that the entertainment committee has secured the John B. Rogers Producing company to direct and equip the historical pageant that will run for more than one hour each night. The spectacle will be an authentic dramatization of the eventful history of organized labor for a past half a century and its achievements coupled with the history of New Castle since the arrival of the first 45 settlers who first appeared in Marching township in 1793, or 144 years ago.

There will be 600 local people in a series of episodes interwoven with dialogue, symbolic dancing with appropriate music and settings. "To accomplish the entertainment and educational objective and the success the project deserves, we cordially invite everyone who is interested in a civic enterprise to participate," Freeborne said.

For his nonchalance in the little matter of trucks he is wiser by a broken right hip, and his owner, Joseph Whitaker, 12, and Joseph's young sisters, Margaret, 9, and Mary, 15, are busted as far as finances are concerned. After Danny was hit he was carried home, limp and dazed, in his young owner's newspaper wagon. Joseph and his sisters broke their banks, pooled their money which totaled three dollars, and took Danny to the veterinarian. The doctor said the usual fee was eight dollars but that he never charged for nine-month-old Spitz puppies who were named Danny.

Abram P. Shaffer Sheriff Candidate

Second Ward Resident Announces For Republican Nomination Today

ABRAM P. "ABE" SHAFFER

Abram P. "Abe" Shaffer of 1709
Delaware avenue, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for sheriff of Lawrence County. His announcement follows:

"In announcing a candidacy for office it is usually customary for the candidate to have some experience in politics. In my case this is not true. I have not been a politician, I have been and am interested in good government. I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff of Lawrence County.

"For the past 12 years I have been a resident of the second ward of New Castle. Prior to that I was a resident of Shenango Township, where I was born and reared, the son of Byron M. Shaffer. My family has been in this county for many generations.

"For the past twenty years I have been employed in the plant of the National Radiator Company and in addition have been a local minister of the Methodist Episcopal church.
At the present time I occupy the pulpit of the West Pittsburg M. E.
Church.

"None of these statements are used to attract votes but are merely for the purpose of identification. It is my opinion that the people of Lawrence County have the right to say who shall be their sheriff and in entering this contest I do so knowing that my opponents are men of standing and character.

"All my life I have been interested in good government in the enforcement of law and in the preservation of the peace. If nominated and elected I expect to adhere to those principles and to give the people of this county service that is actuated by honest motives."

May Complete 'B' Paving Jobs Before Winter

Proposed "C" Paving Program Not Yet Finally Approved, Report

ASK PAVING OF MANY STREETS

Reports from attaches of the department of engineering, city of New Castle, today were to the effect that, owing to short stretches it may be possible for the city to pave all of the remaining thoroughfares on the B program before winter. However, the C program, while approved by the WPA here and at Harrisburg, has not yet been approved by the WPA at Washington. There are public schools located along thoroughfares on the C program; Crin-stance, Home street, Pollock avenue and Euclid avenue.

At present work is being done in Albert street, running south. The street will be paved between Edgewood avenue and Norwood avenue. At present, excavation has reached Fairmont avenue. A storm sewer first must be laid between Fairmont avenue and Glenmore boulevard before all of the street can be paved.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Fine Gardens On City Plots

Sixty-Four Plots For Gardening Are Provided On City Acreage

SEVENTH WARDERS SECURE BENEFIT

Some of the nicest and best taken care of gardens in this district are those planted on 25 acres of ground owned by the city of New Castle in the Willow Grove district, near the seventh ward. This land, which borders the highway in the vicinity of the city disposal plant, is divided into 64 various size plots.

Each year Frank J. Nugent, superintendent at the plant, divides the property into various plots for distribution to those citizens who apply for garden space. According to Nugent, the size of the applicant's family governs the size of the plot which is allotted.

Some years this ground is plowed by the disposal plant workmen for the gardeners.

Few gardens about the district receive as much attention and work as do these city-owned plots. The people who have been loaned the ground turn out early every morning and work until it is too dark to see in the evening.

When being given the ground for gardens, each borrower signs a contract with Superintendent Nugent. In this contract is the understanding that any person owning one of the gardens on this property will forfeit his garden and all produce from it, if he is caught stealing from any of his neighbors.

Also stated in the contract is an agreement that the gardener have his plot completely cleared and cleaned up by a certain date. Failure to comply with this agreement gives the superintendent the right to deny a plot of ground to that person the following season.

The people who borrow this ground take great pride in their work. Vegetables of all types are planted on the limited area, many of the farmers securing enough produce to supply their families throughout the summer and next winter.

Parking Meter Affair Adjusted

Councilman Butler's Objections Are Voiced In Council Today

During council meeting at the city building this morning Streets Director B. F. Butler brought up the parking meters installation and after a discussion which lasted some time colleagues voted favorably on a motion by Director J. D. Alexander empowering the employment of additional men in the street department, due to the services of approximately eight having been taken up by the installing of meters.

Director Butler stopped the street department men from installing the meters last night and today in council gave three reasons for his action, which, in brief, were as follows:

He said he never had been consulted about using men from the department of streets. Butler further stated this work took men from necessary street service and third, the wages of the men engaged in installing the meters would be charged against the street department, although the company is to pay the city for the installation.

It developed several extra men had been employed on a Ray street job in place of the men on the parking meter work.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath said the plans for the installation of the meters had been approved by council and other members said the street department workers would do the work.

To settle the matter, council adopted Alexander's motion by which men needed in the streets service department will be employed and the cost of the men's work on meters will be transferred to the street department from other funds.

The committee in charge of the arrangements included, Mr. F. W. Hamilton, Mrs. G. O. Scheide-mandle, Mrs. William Olsen, Mrs. Horchler and Miss Evelyn Marshall. Special guests that joined in the fun of the evening were, Rev. and Mrs. Harry J. Scheide-mandle and family of Belmont, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. William Neal and son Arthur of Koppel, Mrs. D. C. Schnebly and Mr. and Mrs. Seoben.

The evening hours were spent informally some of the group enjoying swimming, while others played ball or pitched horse shoes.

Plans were made for a breakfast to be held at Cascade Park on August 24.

Social Security Board Open For Business Today

Ready to start the work of handling the nearly 100,000 social security case records in this district, the office of the Social Security Board opened today in the Johnson Building on East Washington street, with William J. Michael as office manager.

Mr. Michael served for three years as an auditor with the Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C., before entering his present field.

Big District
The New Castle office includes in its territory Armstrong, Beaver, Butler and Lawrence counties. This territory has an estimated number of 91,141 employable people covered by old-age benefits of the Social Security Act. These four counties represent a total population of 406,098, and it is estimated that more than 1,100 claims for benefits will be filed in 1937.

The New Castle office will be primarily engaged in the administration of the Federal Old-Age Benefit section of the Social Security Act. One of its most important functions will be to assist employers and employees with information as to their respective responsibilities and rights under the old-age benefit section of the Social Security Act.

Another important function of the office will be to handle inquiries growing out of the assignment of benefit account numbers and to give assistance in connection with this matter to workers and employers. Claims for lump sum payments under the old-age benefit provisions of the Social Security Act will be received and developed in this office. The office will assist in the work of keeping in order the records of the old-age beneficiaries in this territory. Current claims for lump sum benefits arise through death or the attainment of the age of 65 of employees covered by the old-age provisions of the Social Security Act.

Thousands Registered
Mr. Michael stated that he had been informed by Richard Steen, postmaster at New Castle, Pa., that 20,048 workers had submitted their applications for benefit numbers to the post office, while L. J. Leonard, postmaster at Butler, Pa., advised that 13,429 workers had submitted their applications to the Butler post office. Assignments of numbers to these workers has been completed.

pleated. Mr. Michael took occasion to compliment both Mr. Steen and Mr. Leonard and their assistants, on the efficient and able handling by the post office of the entire job of assigning the benefit account numbers, and expressed the appreciation of the board for the work done by the post office in this connection. He also extended the same expression of appreciation to the postmasters at Butler, Slippery Rock, Zelienople, New Wilmington, Aliquippa, Ambridge, Leechburg, Parkers Landing, Rural Valley and to all other post offices in the area.

Mr. Michael pointed out that the tax features of the Social Security Act come under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Internal Revenue. The nearest office of this department is in the new Post Office Building, Pittsburgh, Pa. It is in charge of William Driscoll, collector of internal revenue. All questions with reference to tax matters should be referred for decision to the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., and not to the New Castle office of the Social Security Board.

Small Staff
For the information of those seeking positions with the Social Security Board in the New Castle office or elsewhere, Mr. Michael stated that the staff of the New Castle office for some time to come will be a relatively small one, and that it will be drawn entirely from the Federal Civil Service registers. All positions, with the exception of attorneys and experts, in accordance with the terms of the Social Security Act, will be filled from the Federal Civil Service registers already established on the basis of competitive examinations. Mr. Michael pointed out that only those who possess a civil service status based on past examinations, or who may be able to obtain such a status by taking any future examinations, will be eligible for appointment. All information with reference to civil service examinations must be obtained from the district office of the Civil Service Commission located at the old Post Office Building, 9th and Market streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

The New Castle office desires to be of all possible service to the communities of Armstrong, Beaver, Butler and Lawrence counties, which come within its jurisdiction, and invites cooperation to this end from businessmen as well as from workers.

Watermelons are said to average 92.1 percent water.

POLICE REVEAL

NEW "DODGE" IN SHOPLIFTING
(International News Service)
KANSAS CITY.—A new "dodge" in shoplifting, in which a 2-year-old child played an innocent but important part, was revealed here by the arrest of the mother and two other young women.

The trio, according to complaints from department store clerks, would visit a store and place the child on the floor. Soon, it would toddle behind a counter and then the women, solicitous would dash after it.

While behind the counter, however, police were told, they would snatch the clerk's purses which usually are placed there.

Red fox is to be the most popular fur for spring. This is evidenced by the number of coats and suits trimmed with this pelt being worn at the southern resorts.

Mae West Declared As Wife To Wallace

Coast Judge Rules That Mae West And Frankie Wallace Were Married In 1911

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, July 28.—After splitting a few legal hairs, official recognition of Mae West's marriage to Frank Wallace, vaudeville actor, was recorded in court here today.

The glamorous screen star recently filed an answer to Wallace's suit in which he sought to have their 26-year-old marriage recognized.

She admitted the ceremony, but denied they had ever lived together. Attorneys for Wallace asked Judge Robert W. Kenny to sign a judgment reading "that Mae West and Frank Wallace are still husband and wife."

The judge, however, merely ruled that Mae West and Frank Wallace were legally married in 1911. Wallace's attorneys, who are expected to file affidavits to obtain some of Mae West's fortune under the community property law, said they might appeal the judgment.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Uncle Sam Has Double Worry

War In Spain And Japanese Situation Causes Much Concern

UNITED STATES WILL KEEP AWAY

Central Press Washington Bureau 602 Times-Herald Bldg. BY CHARLES F. STEWART

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The state department is uncertain whether to worry more over the war in Spain or the Japanese situation.

In a way, the oriental threat against world peace is an indirect development of the European disturbance. That is to say, diplomatic and military opinion is in general agreement that the Japanese chose this particular time to attempt another grab of Chinese territory because Tokyo's statesmanship believes occidental countries to be too much preoccupied with the Spanish danger to give serious attention to Far Eastern happenings.

It is an old trick of Nippon's strategists to take prompt advantage of such opportunities. "EVERYONE KNOWS."

Oh, yes, the United States proposes to keep entirely clear of any and all foreign disturbances, but as Secretary of State Cordell Hull says, we cannot prevent them from affecting our interests.

And we cannot, in fact, be neutral.

As to Spain: Everyone knows that the Germans, Italians and Portuguese are warring on the English, French and Russians in the Iberian peninsula.

sula. Not officially at war, but actually so.

As to the Orient: Everyone knows that Japan is attempting a piecemeal conquest of China.

GETS THEM ALL ANGRY

Now, suppose the United States announces, "We are quite aware that there really exists an Anglo-Franco-Russo-German-Italian-Portuguese state of war in Spain, and we shall keep out of it." Thereby we announce substantially, "We formally proclaim all you fellows to be liars, in our judgment."

This is not calculated to make for pleasant relations between Uncle Sam and any of the belligerents, on either side.

On the oriental hand, suppose we were to say, "It is perfectly obvious to us that Japan is trying to eat up China and we are opposed to it." Nevertheless, we are neutral.

Of course this would make Japan sore as a bolt, but it would not be a bit comforting to China, either.

NEUTRAL? Indeed, in a policy of neutrality between Japan and China we would be on the side against our own interest.

We would have to say, as neutrals, "We will not ship supplies to either belligerent. Each must come here, buy what it wants and take its purchases home in its own vessels."

China hasn't any mercantile marine, to speak of. Japan has a pretty good one.

Hence, we should be giving an advantage to Japan.

CHINA FORMIDABLE? China may win this time, too. It has been badly thumped in the past, but it is a more formidable power today than it used to be.

Japan has up-to-the-minute energy, but no basic resources. It has some in Manchukuo, but they are undeveloped. They can't be quickly realized on.

China is equal to a long war. Japan has got to be speedy.

EMBARRASSING SITUATION

Between the East and West it is a billous situation.

It is as embarrassing for a neutral country as for anyone. Possibly more so.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 1 pint a day or about 2 pounds of waste. Frequent urination with pain and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, hiccups, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, itching, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Dr. Botwin will ask your doctor for Dr. Botwin's Pills, and successfully by means for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 million kidneys flush out poisons waste from your blood. Get Dr. Botwin's Pills.

AROUND CITY HALL

City Finance Director James L. Pink today stated that C. L. McMillen, employed about 11 months ago to audit the accounts and records of Attorney Robert McKinney White while the latter was city solicitor had found everything satisfactory.

McMillen later in the day stated that he also had found cash accounts correct and other matters all right insofar as he has gone and when the work is complete will report to council.

It appears that different systems of keeping records were employed in the solicitor's office and also in the finance department for some time and through McMillen's audit it will be possible after Pink installs a new system, to see everything at a glance.

White served as assistant to Solicitor James A. Gardner later upon the death of Solicitor Gardner being elevated to that post. While in office he was regarded as one of the leading authorities on matters affecting Third Class cities. He left office during the first year of the present regime and was succeeded by Attorney William Coburn who is assisted by Attorney Gilbert Long.

During the past seven or eight years the office of the solicitor has become, in addition to a legal bureau, a department for the collection of delinquent taxes and the duties there have been and are yet quite voluminous.

J. Myron Rice, director of public safety today confirmed the report that inasmuch as paid firemen come within the provisions of civil service they will not be permitted to participate in politics. He said that Fire Chief A. P. McIlwain would post such a notice today. Police Chief R. A. Criswell yesterday. For years police and firemen fought for civil service and put forth the claim that police and firemen without civil service could be made the victim of any office-holder's whim. Those responsible for the order, instead of issuing it as a blow, regard the order as a guard. They do not want city police or firemen to become enmeshed in a situation that later may prove detrimental to the employees.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath stated today that parking meters in East Washington street will be the first to be placed in operation and the meters there will be "educators." He believes that more automobiles are parked along the main thoroughfare than any other and for this reason those meters will be first operated. One hour will be allowed for five cents. No doubt autoists now will carry more nickels than they have in the past in order that they will not be compelled to run and change money in order to put the nickel in the slot.

Time may come when the city will employ another party in the city's motor mechanic repair shop to save the city money. At least, this was indicated Wednesday when Mayor Charles E. McGrath said that he would not be averse to having another efficient employee added for the purpose of taking charge of the greasing of all automobiles and trucks in the city and to also help the present employees. At present the mayor argued there is no system of taking care of such features as greasing, examination of plugs, periodic inspections, unless employees change of such equipment themselves take the cars to the shop for that purpose. The city possesses approximately three score pieces of auto equipment which includes costly tire apparatus, street trucks, garbage trucks and police cars, which should be kept tuned for any eventuality.

State Aviation Council Named

Governor Announces Personnel Of Board To Handle Aviation Matters

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, July 29.—Gov. George H. Earle has announced the creation of a state aviation council consisting of seven members, to advise the administration on aviation matters.

He announced appointment of the following members of the board, each to serve without pay:

Secretary of Revenue J. Griffith Boardman, chairman; J. D. Condon, Pittsburgh; A. Williams, Pittsburgh; L. P. Arnold, Pittsburgh; George Gray, Williamsport; Harry McGee, Bloomsburg; Wallace Kellett, Philadelphia.

Col. Camery Vinet, chief of the aeronautics bureau, who proposed the plan, will act as technical adviser.

The board, according to Governor Earle, will formulate policies on transportation, development of airports and emergency landing fields, airway facilities, aeronautics education, and the control of private flying.

Meanwhile, it was learned, the state is awaiting delivery of a new airplane, bought at a cost of $8,000. The plane is a Stinson four-seater, to replace one of the state's ships, and will have a cruising speed of 150 miles an hour at 5,000 feet altitude.

New Breakfast Club In Formative Stage

"The Dunkers" Almost Ready To Get Under Way In New Castle

It was just a question of time before someone started the idea of a breakfast club.

We have lunch clubs, dinner clubs, supper clubs, bridge clubs and golf clubs, but up to the present moment the idea of a breakfast club seems to have been overlooked.

But they snuck up on it finally right here in New Castle and the possibilities of being the mother chapter of a national organization looms right here at home.

The new club is to be known as "The Dunkers," derived from the fact that the members take nothing but sinkers and java for breakfast. Dunking past the second knuckle calls for a fine.

There are no dues, no national or state organizers to pay, no constitution or by-laws and no permanent officers. Each Wednesday morning the Dunkers plan to meet at a local bunnety, hear some inspirational talk that will act as a counter irritant to the sinkers, and then go out to their work with a song in their hearts, uplifted by the roseate thoughts wafted to them over the odor of the coffee.

Each Wednesday morning the club will elect the chairman for the next Wednesday morning and the chairman gets his own speaker. The membership will be limited to the table capacity of the bunnety and new members have only one initiation fee they pay for the breakfasts of their fellow Dunkers.

Sounds like a good idea. It should be taken up avidly by the married women as a means of getting out of making breakfast for the husband. Or perhaps that is what started the whole thing, the boys weren't getting their breakfast at home anyway.

New backs are large and soft, with long handles. In Paris they are wearing them thrown over one shoulder, but they may also be worn knapsack fashion.

State Has Balance Of $5,579,729 For Federal Highways

Road Projects Can Be Undertaken In State With Federal Aid Funds

By ARTHUR C. WIMER Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—Pennsylvania on July first had an unobligated balance of $5,579,729 in Federal grants available for new projects on the Federal-Aid Highway System of the state, according to figures made public by the Bureau of Public Roads.

The Federal government makes available funds for such roadwork with the proviso the states shall supplement these grants with local funds. For the fiscal years of 1936, 1937 and 1938 the Federal government apportioned $18,129,804 for such highway improvement.

Out of this money Pennsylvania had completed 117.5 miles of construction to July first. Total cost of this construction was placed at $6,963,896, with $3,432,354 to come from the federal grants and the balance from local and state sources.

In addition to the mileage completed, 180.8 miles costing $11,354,046 were under construction in the state. Federal grants financed $5,679,899 of this, the balance to come from the state. An additional 42 miles to cost $2,882,987 had been approved for construction in Pennsylvania. Of this, $1,457,722 had been taken from federal grants and the balance was to be paid by the state.

Deduction of payments for the mileage completed, under construction and approved for construction left $5,579,729 in federal grants available for other road projects in the Keystone state.

Auker Defeats Yankees 8 To 1

Allows League Leaders But

PIRATES UPSET PHILLIES 6 TO 4

NEW YORK, July 29.—Johnnie Auker of the Cardinals and Hank Greenberg of the Tigers were tied today in the race to be first in the major leagues to bat in a hundred runs this season.

Each has driven in 98 to date and today's games may decide the issue. Medwick has no competition in his own league in batting in runs. In fact, he has little or no competition in any phase of hitting.

But Hank is getting plenty of opposition from Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees, who not only is leading both circuits with 28 homers, but is close on Hank's heels with 92 runs batted in.

DiMaggio had little chance to add to his score yesterday for Eldon Auker of the Tigers held the Yankees to two meagre singles and trimmed Gomez, Hadley and the rest of the Yankees, 8 to 1. Joe got one of the two hits but it did not score anybody.

Best Of Day
That surprising performance of Auker's was the best of the day and proved a fine tonic for Mickey Cochrane who smiled his approval from the Tiger dug-out.

The Yankees lost no ground in the pennant race, however, for the Senators knocked off the White Sox, 11-8, sending the Chicago entry tumbling to third place behind the Tigers.

The Red Sox came from behind in the ninth to give Buck Newson a 5-4 verdict over the Browns, and the A's again tossed a bomb into the Indians' ranks by pounding out 17 hits for an 11-7 decision.

Giants Trim Cards
The Giants, with Melton pitching, staged a late rally at Warneke's expense to tame the Cards, 6-4. The Giants gained nothing on the Cubs, however, because that fast stopping aggregation again knocked off the Dodgers, 7-5.

The defeat tumbled the Dodgers into seventh place behind the Reds who once again took the measure of the Bees, 6-1. It was the first poorly pitched game the Bees have had in a long time.

The Pirates fell on a flock of Philly flingers for a dozen hits and a 6-4 victory.

CYCLONES TAKE VICTORY
The Cyclone A. C. softball team tossed out the Kouscouskos 5 to 4 in a game at Gaston Park field. It was the fifteenth straight victory for the Cyclone A. C. team.

Midjet Games
Are Exciting

Nomads, Millers, Russos,
Rangers, Hoods Wins
On Wednesday

Thrills were galore on Wednesday when Midget Softball League teams continued their battle for second half laurels.

Nomads, a greatly inspired team since the first half, handed the Pearson A. C. an unexpected 10-6 trimming. Troy, George and Gillett hit the ball hard. Millers won their second straight game, handing the Eagles a 19-1 shellacking. Cowden hit a homer while Nye counted his sixth four-pyer of the season.

Russos, first half flunkies, took the measure of the Mainland A. C., 6-5. The Russos made 11 miscues and were out-hit 8-6, but managed to win. In the sixth, Peter Pagley broke up the game with a homer, with two teammates on the paths. It was the longest hit on record for a midget player. The game was played at Rosena grounds. Cline also poked out a homer for the losers.

Although Carmen Conglose, star third sacker for the Ross A. C., smashed out his eighth homer to lead the league, the Ross dropped a contest to the Rangers, 17-9. Perrelli and Hyler also rapped out homers.

Hoods won from the strong Marcellas at Dean Park, 9-1. Aside from pitching masterfully, Theopolis poked out a homer. Robinson also homered. The Marcellas gathered but three hits.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 29.—The feeling growing in this corner that the customers who wait to see Tommy Farr in a vertical position on the night of August 26 in Yankee stadium had better get there early . . . and keep their eyes glued on Louis and Farr when they step to the center of the ring for the first few punches . . . Having just returned from looking over the Welsh wonder and getting a load of his chatter, I strike me that here is a guy tailor-made for the Bomber to bust into a million pieces with one lusty wallop.

Farr has been exercising his tonsils no end since settling foot to these shores . . . Mushky Jackson says it is his shoulder blades he should be training instead of his vocal cords . . . that's my guess, too . . . he talks too good a fight to suit me . . . Tumnas says "I'll defend the 'bloomin' title three times after he wins it from Louis . . . then retire undefeated . . . Furthermore, Louis is slow, most unclean, lacks experience . . . and he has seen the Bomber in the movies and knows how to beat him . . . also, once when he was 10 years old he saw two men battle on a mountain near his native north (Tompany, Wales) . . . and they fought so long and so hard that finally their legs folded, so the spectators dug holes and placed the two combatants up right therein so they could carry on . . . It's just a tophole yarn . . . I'd say typical of British heavyweights to have to prop themselves up, eh, what?

"Why should I be afraid of Louis?" asks Tumnas. "He's not about it."

Farr beat Bob Olin, a light heavyweight, not so long ago, and one of the boys asked him what he thought of Olin . . . All hands were howled over a bit by Tumnas' reply to the effect that Olin certainly was one of the hardest hitters he ever had been matched with . . . Olin a puncher! Old Tumnas hasn't seen anything yet!

normal, is he (you'd be surprised)? He is just another fighter with two arms, two legs (that's all Dempsey had, too).

"I am a born fighter and the son of a fighter (are you sure your old man wasn't Cicerio?) Sometimes I have fought as many as five fights a night (you're about to be promoted)."

And so on and on . . . Tommy says he found it hard to get along in England as a fighter because he was "not Eton", and if he "were Eton" it would have been easy . . . he ought to get along handily with Joe Louis . . . Joe isn't Eton, cyther, Tumnas, old pot o' tea . . . One of the boys asked Farrs why he didn't knock out Max Baer . . . Farr replied he didn't want to . . . "Put yourself in my place, I had come up hand over hand, with nobody believing in me, and now I was in the ring with a man over whom victory would be sweet to me. I had no fear of his right, and after the first round I knew just how to fight him. I found I was winning easily from Baer, so I didn't want to take a chance by trying to knock him out!"

In other words, Tumnas wasn't afraid of Baer's punch but didn't want to get hit with it, by George.

Farr beat Bob Olin, a light heavyweight, not so long ago, and one of the boys asked him what he thought of Olin . . . All hands were howled over a bit by Tumnas' reply to the effect that Olin certainly was one of the hardest hitters he ever had been matched with . . . Olin a puncher! Old Timers To Play Merchants

Lehigh Field Will Be Scene
Of Ball Game Friday Evening

ALL OLD TIMERS
TO GET IN GAME

East Side Merchants, a Lawrence county baseball aggregation, and Ye Old-Timers of the city will strut their stuff at 6 p. m. Friday on the Lehigh field and again will come the test of Youth vs. Age.

For some time the Old-Timers have been jollifying along the diamond and field lines watching the youngsters cavort and between chewing of long grass have declared:

"We did it better than that," to which the present crop of players responded: "Play us and we will see about it."

Hearing this, George Stanley, an Old-Timer, made arrangements for the test.

So, folks, the game is on tap Friday.

All of the Old-Timers have the spirit and it might be said many are capable and prospects are bright for an enjoyable game.

All of the Old-Timers who want to play an inning or two, should report ahead of time at the Lehigh field, where Charlie Bishop and three other Lawrence county umpires will umpire the game.

Buffalo Food
Strike Is Ended

(International News Service)
BUFFALO, N. Y., July 29.—Delivery of foodstuffs to Buffalo grocery stores where shelves have been depleted by an eight-day strike of 1,000 truck drivers, was resumed today.

The strike ended last night when the strikers ratified a compromise agreement giving them a modified shop, union recognition, wage increases and improved working conditions.

But why is it immoral for the rich to evade the tax law if it was not immoral to evade the dry law?

Another week of qualifying will be held at Castle Hills course, it was announced by Mose Mancine, pro at the course today. The club championship qualifying round will absolutely close next Sunday.

Due to vacations and rainy weather it was deemed advisable to delay the closing another week.

He had a sub-par round of 34 on the back nine and ended his new rich' back on the front nine in 35, taking a 41 on the front nine.

S. E. Wray overdrove the Number 4 green 280 yards and sank his approach shot for an eagle two. It's a par 4 hole.

Johnny Dodge drove the apron of No. 4 and sank his chip shot for an eagle two.

The following have qualified at Castle Hills so far:

Stock Market Is Irregular

Market Turns Quiet Today; Scattered Profit-Taking Halts Advance

NEW YORK, July 29.—The stock market turned quiet and irregular today. A recovery developed in the first hour but this was checked by pressure on rails and scattered profit-taking in other leaders.

U. S. Steel started higher and was up a point at one time. Bethlehem was up nearly 2 but gains were cut later.

Motor shares lacked uniformity of movement. Chrysler pointed higher while General Motors was under pressure. In rail shares, Atchafalaya was down nearly a point and Union Pacific as much. Most of the others gave fractional ground.

Leading power shares moved in a narrow range around previous closing levels.

Oil shares were under some pressure with Standard of New Jersey down. Amusements improved, led by Loew's. Aviation was better and coppers highly irregular.

Commodities were under further pressure. Cotton slumped $1 a bale, on big private crop estimates. Grains slipped.

Elementary, my dear Watson. One doesn't have to guess twice to deduce that this happy trio is headed for a beach picnic. Pitt Engineers Study In Summer Camp

Do you call that splashing 'round in a cool mountain stream study? Yes, sir! That's prescribed summer work for engineering students of the University of Pittsburgh. They go with faculty members every summer to their Camp Hamilton, near Windber. The Allegheny Mountains of the district abound in rivers, high mountains and all other natural obstacles which engineering students must work with per Commencement Day. It's a practical way to learn surveying. And it's fun, too.

Terry To Sign New Contract

Giants Will Pay "Glorious" Bill Salary Of $40,000 Per Year

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 29.—In order to still idle and perhaps malicious tongues, William Harold Terry, the man with the glower, is to be signed to a new contract as manager of the New York Giants within a comparatively few hours, according to information that comes to the writer today from someone who isn't talking just to give his adjectives an airing. The club is prepared, I'm assured, to tear up the old documents, under which Terry is operating now, and will write another on a one-year basis which, in 1938, will make him the highest paid man in baseball. Roughly, it will call for approximately $40,000 for next season, with an option of renewal, provided both parties are agreeable. A man can continue to be pretty agreeable at $40,000.

Ryantown Team Meets Tonight

All members of the Ryantown baseball team are asked to report tonight at the Ryantown field at 8 o'clock for a practice session. It is important that all players attend this session.
Friday night the Ryantowns will go to West Middlesex for a game. Any player unable to get to the practice tonight is asked to call Manager Joe Samuels at 3705-M.

BITTEN BY A LOAN SHARK?

The men were arguing who was the greatest inventor. One said Stephenson, who invented the locomotive. Another declared it was the man who invented the compass. Another contended for Edison. Finally, one of them turned to a little man who had remained silent. "What do you think?" "The man who invented interest was no slouch," was the reply.

50 Years Ago Aviation Was Born on University's Campus

Scale model of the University of Pittsburgh's old Allegheny Observatory half a century ago when the Observatory's director, Dr. Samuel P. Langley, the famed astronomer and inventor, was making pioneer experiments which established principles of aerodynamics which led to creation of the modern art of aviation. Langley worked almost in secrecy, for he sought no fame and in the 1880's no scientist dared permit the public know he believed that some day humans would soar in "flying machines."

The apparatus which in the photo looks like a windmill was called a "whirling table." Langley discovered on the "whirling table" the principle of the bent wing—whole basis of today's airplane. Until then all efforts with flying machines failed because the bent wing idea was unthought of. "table" and found bent ones rose when rushed through the air—when the steam engine spun around the apparatus.

ROYAL DANCING PARTNERS RESENT 'GIGOLO' TITLE

(International News Service) FORT WORTH, Tex.—Europe's nobility it appears, just "don't take" to the American idea of a free press. Count Nicol Veggetti Di Caffa, brought here by Billy Rose with four other noblemen for the purpose of serving as dancing partners to lady guests at Casa Manana, the huge open air, theater-cafe, walked out on the management because of a story by three New York columnists in which he and the others were called "titled gigolos."

It was with considerable difficulty that officials explaining no one can control the American press, were able to induce the count to resume work.

WHAT'S THIS? OWLS REPUTATION SAID TO BE OVERRATED

(International News Service) AUBURN, Wash.—The owl's reputation or wisdom has been considerably over-rated according to employees of the state game farm near here.

Since owls began to prey on fledgling pheasants three months ago the farm staff declared a war. Results have been: Patrol, five pecked fingers three clawed arms; owls, 187 trapped and killed.

One habit of the night flyer birds proved their undoing. They perch on fenceposts around the pheasant pens to look before they leap. Trans constructed by the Works-Progress administration, mounted on the posts proved the invaders undoing.

It would seem that anything as wise as an owl should have figured a way around that!

Market Turns Quiet Today; Scattered Profit-Taking Halts Advance

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, July 29.—The stock market turned quiet and irregular today. A recovery developed in the first hour but this was checked by pressure on rails and scattered profit-taking in other leaders.

U. S. Steel started higher and was up a point at one time. Bethlehem was up nearly 2 but gains were cut later.

Motor shares lacked uniformity of movement. Chrysler pointed higher while General Motors was under pressure. In rail shares Atchafalaya was down nearly a point and Union Pacific as much. Most of the others gave fractional ground.

Leading power shares moved in a narrow range around previous closing levels.

Oil shares were under some pressure with Standard of New Jersey down. Amusements improved, led by Loew's. Aviation was better and Loew's highly irregular.

Commodities were under further pressure. Cotton slumped $1 a bale, on big private crop estimates. Grains slipped.

ALSO IN SCHOOL

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Reynoldstown school reunion Wednesday evening, further plans were made for the grand day, August 17.

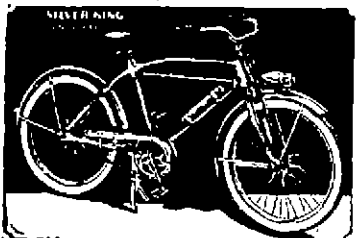

It was decided that instead of those who attended or taught at Reynoldstown school before 1910 the eligibility will be extended to 1910. The reunion will get underway at the schoolhouse on Pearson street at 2:30 p. m. The participants will bring their picnic baskets, bringing with them everything except what the committee is providing—ham, coffee, cream and ice cream. They will eat right there in the schoolhouse after their program.

Here are the committees:
Reception—Fred Rentz, William Butz, Robert Whaley, Ed. Marshall, R. H. McCann and James Mayberry.
Music—Lottie Nicklin.
Dinner—Lou Cookinger, Laura Warrick, Eva Donaldson, Joe Campbell, Joe McCaskey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCandless and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Clark.

All people who attended or taught at Reynoldstown school before 1910 to attend. In the meantime they should notify friends who are out of town. The association wants this year's reunion to be bigger and better than ever. As usual it occurs the day before Old Timers' Day.

BUTTEN BY A LOAN SHARK?
The men were arguing who was the greatest inventor. One said Stephenson, who invented the locomotive. Another declared it was the man who invented the compass. Another contended for Edison. Finally, one of them turned to a little man who had remained silent. "What do you think?" "The man who invented interest was the slouch," was the reply.

50 Years Ago Aviation Was Born on University's Campus

Scale model of the University of Pittsburgh's old Allegheny Observatory half a century ago when the Observatory's director, Dr. Samuel P. Langley, the famed astronomer and inventor, was making pioneer experiments which established principles of aerodynamics which led to creation of the modern art of aviation. Langley worked almost in secrecy, for he sought no fame and in the 1890's no scientist dared permit the public know he believed that some day humans would soar in "flying machines."

The apparatus which in the photo looks like a windmill was called a "whirling table." Langley discovered on the "whirling table" the principle of the bent wing—whole basis of today's airplane. Until then all efforts with flying machines failed because the bent wing idea was unthought of. Langley was successful because he attached wings to a vertical bar on the "table" and found bent ones rose when rushed through the air—when the steam engine spun around the apparatus.

ROYAL DANCING
PARTNERS RESENT
'GIGOLO' TITLE
(International News Service)

PORT WORTH, Tex.—Europe's nobility it appears, just "don't take" to the American idea of a free press. Count Nicolai Vasselli Di Caffre, brought here by Billy Rose, with four other noblemen for the purpose of serving as dancing partners to lady guests at Casa Manana, the huge open air theater-cafe, walked out on the management because of a story by three New York columnists in which he and the others were called "titled gigolos."

It was with considerable difficulty that officials explaining no one can control the American press, were able to induce the count to resume work.

WHAT'S THIS? OWLS REPUTATION SAID TO BE OVERRATED

(International News Service)
AUBURN, Wash.—The owl's reputation or wisdom has been considerably over-rated according to employees of the state game farm near here.

Since owls began to prey on fledgling pheasants three months ago the farm staff declared a war. Results have been: Patrol five pecked fingers three clawed arms; owls, 187 trapped and killed.

One habit of the night flyer birds proved their undoing. They perch on fenceposts around the pheasant pens to look before they leap.

Traps constructed by the Works-Progress administration, mounted on the posts proved the invaders' undoing.

It would seem that anything as wise as an owl should have figured a way around that!
